

Legal terms

Noble & Noble commits itself to ensuring, to the best of its ability, that the information posted on this site is correct and up-to-date. Noble & Noble reserves the right to correct the site's content at any time and without warning.

Noble & Noble declines responsibility:

- for any interruption, suspension or malfunction of any kind of the site;
- for any bugs;
- for any errors or omissions contained in the information available on the site.

Personal data

Noble & Noble respects your concerns regarding the confidentiality of personal information and data provided by you. That is why we adhere to the General Data Protection Regulation and the EU ePrivacy Regulation in accordance with EU directive 2002/58/EC with updates as they occur.

Links

The site may include links to other websites or other Internet sources. Noble & Noble cannot control these sites and/or external sources. Hence, Noble & Noble cannot be held responsible for those sites and/or external sources, and declines any responsibility for the content, advertising, products, services and any other material available on or branching off those sites and external sources. In addition, Noble & Noble cannot be held responsible for any damage or losses, true or alleged, deriving from the use or from having trusted the content, or goods and services available on those sites and/or external sources.

Noble & Noble Property Rights

This entire site is protected by international legislation on copyrights, trademarks and in general intellectual property rights, covering both the form (choice, structure and design of materials, means of accessing data, database or any organization of data, etc.), and each element of content (brands, text, illustrations, graphics and other visuals, video, etc.). The content on the pages of this site is the exclusive property of Noble & Noble and its contributors, who do not grant any license or other right than to consult these materials on the site. Reproduction of any content published on this site is authorized only for information purposes and exclusively for personal and private use. Any reproduction, extraction or other use of the content for other purposes is expressly prohibited. Specific exceptions may be made for certain content (text, visuals) that are the property of their respective authors.

Any reproduction, representation, distribution or redistribution, total or partial, of the content using any process (in particular caching or framing) as well as any sale, resale, retransmission or supply to a third party in any manner, is strictly prohibited. Failure to comply with these restrictions constitutes counterfeiting and exposed the perpetrator to civil and criminal liability.
